About the artwork

Rise Écho I - Perle rises from the base in a continuous upward motion before gradually turning back toward itself, creating a movement that feels both fluid and contained.

Its flowing silhouette reveals a different composition from every angle, while the inward curve creates a sense of depth and quiet tension within the form. Soft satin surfaces and warm pearl-toned accents along the rim allow light to move gently across the sculpture, highlighting its subtle transitions and organic contours. The finish combines softness and luminosity with a strong sculptural presence, balancing movement and stillness in a single gesture.

Handmade Ceramic Sculpture
