About the artwork

A spongy geofabric heart, shredded yet still held together, sits at the center, stitched along its edges with golden thread. Faded reds and pinks evoke warmth, tenderness, and the labor of care. The piece captures love as both giving and sustaining, a reservoir of intimacy and devotion held within the heart. Love Fountain speaks of the endurance of connection, of how care and affection are accumulated, stitched, and tenderly preserved—quiet traces of the energy that flow through relationships and shape our sense of belonging.
