About the artwork

The world is not as it appears to be. Nature’s technology is far more advanced than we might realise. Our naked eyes only see the surface, while there is much more happening behind the scenes.

The unknown realms that our limited technologies and scientific research are beginning to uncover have long been understood by nature. We simply need to collaborate with it.

The universe and the planet, by their very nature, are in perfect form. The change required is within 'us'—deep within our core—in order to align with the eternal harmony and transformation necessary for a collective global impact amidst the current ecological crises.

These deep yet clear messages can be found through the consistent patterns that nature uses as reminders all around and within us. The artworks highlight the importance of discovering our true purpose and affirm that each individual is sufficient in their own capacity. Resources are always available if we cultivate the right connection with our inner consciousness, curiosity, energies, and the holistic purpose of the universe.

All art pieces convey connected energies, inspired by nature, the cosmos, and everything within and around us, using only the word 'Allah'.

"...and He (Allah) is with you wherever you are..." (Surah Al-Hadeed, 57:4 - Al Quran)
